She began her Washington career as staff to Rep. Jack Davis (R-IL), before joining several different lobbying firms where she represented nonprofit clients with interests in elementary and higher education, health services, and scientific research – including biomedical and behavioral research. For the last 20+ years, her advocacy efforts have focused on federal budget and appropriations.

Ms. Pawelczyk received her bachelor's degree in journalism from the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana. She also holds a Master of Arts in Liberal Studies, with a concentration in social and public policy, from Georgetown University.
